

Continue

Tv masters golf tournament

The wait is finally over as the 2024 Masters tees off on April 11 at the iconic Augusta National Golf Club. The biggest names in men's golf from both the PGA Tour and LIV Golf are set to face each other for the first time this year, adding an extra layer of excitement to the event. With the truce between the PGA Tour and PIF still pending, fans can expect a thrilling showdown between the stars of both tours. This will be the first major appearance of the season for several top golfers, including Jon Rahm, who made headlines by switching from the PGA Tour to LIV Golf last year. Rory McIlroy and Scottie Scheffler are among the favorites to take home the title, with McIlroy seeking his elusive first Masters win and Scheffler looking to build on his impressive 2022 championship run. The TV coverage will be split between ESPN and CBS, while extensive streaming options will be available online through various platforms. Fans can catch all the action from April 11-14, with the complete schedule and streaming details outlined below:

**Wednesday, April 10** * Par 3 Contest: 3-5 p.m. (ESPN) **Thursday, April 11** * Honorary Starters: 7:45-8 a.m. (Masters.com, Masters App) * Round 1 ESPN Telecast: 3-7:30 p.m. (ESPN+) * Featured Groups: 9:15 a.m.-7:30 p.m. (Paramount+, ESPN+, Masters.com, Masters App, CBS Sports App) **Friday, April 12** * Round 2 ESPN Telecast: 3-7:30 p.m. (ESPN+) * Featured Groups: 9:15 a.m.-7:30 p.m. (Paramount+, ESPN+, Masters.com, Masters App, CBS Sports App) **Saturday, April 13** * Round 3 CBS Telecast: 3-7 p.m. (CBS) **Sunday, April 14** * Final Round CBS Telecast: 2-7 p.m. (CBS)

The Masters is set to continue this weekend on Augusta National Golf Course, with the tournament broadcasted live on TV and online throughout the week. The final round will feature Rory McIlroy going head-to-head with Bryson DeChambeau in a battle for a major championship, Green Jacket, and career Grand Slam. The pair will play together in the final pairing of the 89th Masters. TV coverage will be extensive throughout the week, with Sunday's main event starting at 3pm. However, blackout restrictions mean that only featured groups will be shown before the main coverage begins at 7:30pm. To watch The Masters live, sign up for the Disney Bundle (Disney+/Hulu/ESPN+) and enjoy everything the three platforms have to offer. The tournament kicked off on Thursday, April 10th, and will run until Sunday, April 13th. You can catch all the action on Sky Sports from 2pm on Thursday and Friday, and 3pm over the weekend days. The Masters golf tournament is taking place from April 10th-13th at the Augusta National Golf Club in Georgia. The event will be broadcast live on Sky Sports and NOW, with various options for streaming, including a day membership or month membership. The tournament features a strong field of golfers, including Scottie Scheffler, Jon Rahm, and Rory McIlroy. The four-day event will include all four rounds at the Georgia host club, with CBS airing the final two rounds. If you're eager to catch all the action at the 2025 Masters, you've got plenty of options for live viewing. The tournament is set to take place this week at the renowned Augusta National course. On Wednesday, ESPN will kick off the coverage with a four-hour broadcast of the Par-3 Contest. For Thursday and Friday's first two rounds, viewers can tune in to ESPN once again from 3-7:30 p.m. Eastern. When it comes time for the tournament's third and final rounds on Saturday and Sunday, CBS will take over the airwaves, airing its coverage starting at 2 p.m. each day. But if you'd rather watch online, you can stream all this action via ESPN.com or the ESPN app, as well as CBSSports.com, and even Paramount Plus. However, for those who prefer traditional TV viewing, here's a rundown of the broadcast schedule: Thursday, April 10, features three-and-a-half hours of coverage from 3-7 p.m. on ESPN; Friday, April 11, has the same time slot on ESPN; Saturday, April 12, switches to CBS with two and a half hours of live coverage starting at 2 p.m.; Sunday, April 13, also sees CBS broadcasting for two-and-a-half hours from 2-4:30 p.m. Given article text here

The Masters Tournament will take place from April 6-13. The schedule includes various TV and radio broadcasts, as well as online coverage. Live TV coverage of the tournament will be available on ESPN, CBS, and Paramount+, with different timeslots for each network. On Thursday, April 10, the live broadcast begins at 8:30 AM with "On the Range." Golf will continue throughout the day until 7:30 PM on CBS and ESPN. The radio coverage will run from 7:00 AM to 10:00 PM on SiriusXM. The next two days will feature a similar schedule of broadcasts, with some slight changes in timing. On Friday, April 11, and Saturday, April 12, the live broadcast begins earlier, starting at 8:30 AM. Sunday's coverage will start at 8:00 AM on SiriusXM and run until 10:00 PM. The final round of golf will be broadcast from 2:00 PM to 7:00 PM on CBS and Paramount+, with a "Green Jacket Ceremony" available online. Additionally, several online-only programs will be available during the tournament, including "Welcome to the Masters," "Growing the Game," and "An Invitation to the Masters." The schedule also includes various specials and documentaries, such as "A Champion's Dream: Jordan Spieth" and "The Legend of Bernhard Langer." Overall, golf fans can watch the tournament on various networks and platforms, both live and online. The 2025 Masters Tournament will be broadcast live from Augusta National Golf Club through a partnership between ESPN and CBS. Fans can catch the action on TV or stream it online. For those in the US, ESPN will air Rounds 1 and 2 on Thursday and Friday from 3:00 PM to 7:30 PM EDT, while CBS will show Rounds 3 and 4 on Saturday and Sunday from 2:00 PM to 7:00 PM EDT. There's also extra coverage available online through various platforms like CBS Digital, Paramount+, ESPN+, and DirecTV. Mobile users can watch live streams using the CBS Sports, Paramount+, or ESPN+ apps with existing subscriptions. The entire tournament will be available on Masters.com in the US, along with exclusive online content like the Honorary Starters and the Green Jacket Ceremony. Internationally, fans can tune in to different channels: Sky Sports Golf for UK viewers, CTV and TSN for Canadians, Nine Network (9Gem) and Kayo Sports for Australians, Sky Sports Golf for Irish viewers, SuperSport (DStv) for South Africans, or J-Sports (ESPN) for Japanese viewers. The 89th Masters coverage promises to be the most comprehensive ever, with live broadcasts in over 200 countries and territories. Wall-to-wall tournament coverage starts on Thursday, April 10, with streaming available through Masters.com and the Masters App. The notorious Amen Corner stream will be back, focusing on the famous three-hole stretch from the 11th. Additionally, users of Masters digital platforms can access live and recorded data on every single shot during range sessions, including distance, carry, speeds, and more. Each shot will display a 3D tracing, and a full scatterplot for every player will be available each day. HDR live video will be available for all Masters live streams on compatible devices, offering richer, more lifelike colors that showcase the beauty of Augusta National in bloom. New this year is Mornings at the Masters, a daily social show airing from 9:00-9:45 a.m. on the Masters YouTube channel. It'll focus on lifestyle and cultural elements. The tournament will also debut Under the Umbrellas, an episodic series featuring guests. Bookmark this page for the complete schedule and don't miss a moment of the action! The Masters Tournament in 2025 will be broadcast through various platfoms, providing extensive coverage for viewers worldwide. Here are the key details on how to watch and listen to the tournament: **TV Coverage** * ESPN will air live coverage of tournament play on Thursday, April 10, and Friday, April 11. * Paramount+ and CBS will carry additional hours of live coverage on Saturday, April 12, and Sunday, April 13. * Sky Sports will provide over 70 hours of live coverage in the UK. **Streaming** * Masters.com/Masters App will offer live streaming for all rounds. * ESPN+, Paramount+, and CBS will also broadcast select rounds. **Radio Coverage** * SiriusXM radio will air live throughout the week. **Schedule** * Honorary starters tee off at 7:30 a.m. EDT, followed by featured groups and individual hole coverage. * Live TV coverage on ESPN, Paramount+, and CBS will be available at various times each day. * A complete schedule of broadcast times can be found on Masters.com/Masters App. **International Broadcasts** * In the US, Spanish-speaking viewers can watch live coverage on ESPN Deportes. * In the UK, Sky Sports will provide wall-to-wall coverage from Augusta National. Overall, there are numerous ways to follow and enjoy the 2025 Masters Tournament, with a wide range of broadcast options available across different platforms. 14:15-19:30 Featured Groups LIVE! 19:30-00:30 Day two LIVE! 13:30 On the Range, 13:45 Holes four-six 14:15 Featured Groups 15:45 Amen Corner 16:45 Holes 15 and 16 15:00-17:00 Live Masters build-up 17:00-00:30 Day three LIVE! 15:00 On the Range, 15:15 Featured Groups, 15:30 Holes four-six 16:45 Amen Corner, 17:45 Holes 15 and 16 15:00-17:00 Live Masters build-up 1700-0030 - Day four LIVE! 15:00 On the Range 15:15 Featured Groups 15:30 Holes four-six 16:45 Amen Corner 17:45 Holes 15 and 16 14:00-19:00 Live From The Masters 19:00-22:00 - The Masters - Par 3 Tournament LIVE! 22:00-23:00 - The Masters preview show Extra feed: 14:00-16:00 - On the Range 14:00-22:00 - Live From The Masters You can watch The Masters live on TV or stream it online for free using a Virtual Private Network (VPN). BBC Radio 5 Live and Sports Extra also offer live radio coverage. To keep up with the action without paying for Sky Sports, securing a VPN is recommended. ExpressVPN is highly rated and offers a top-drawer service with fast speeds, security, and a money-back guarantee. The Masters golf tournament is underway at Augusta National Golf Club in Georgia. Here's a guide to follow the action: The tournament will be broadcast on various channels including CBS, ESPN, and Paramount+, with live coverage available online at masters.com. Fans can catch early morning coverage of Holes 4, 5, and 6 on ESPN+ from 8:45 am to 3:30 pm, while Amen Corner and Holes 15 and 16 will be broadcast on CBS Digital, DirecTV, ESPN+, and Paramount+ from 10:45 am to 7 pm. Additionally, fans can tune in for "Welcome to The Masters" on ESPN at 1-3 pm, as well as CBS highlights from 11:35-11:50 pm. Tee times are listed below: 7:40 am - Group 1: Davis Riley and Patton Kizzire 7:51 am - Group 2: Kevin Yu, Jhonattan Vegas, and Nicolai Højgaard 8:02 am - Group 3: Mike Weir, Michael Kim, and Cameron Young ... 1:12 p.m. - Groups begin to tee off at the Masters Tournament.