Wishing you all the best, Yusuf—your passion for the field is evident, and I'm excited to see where it takes you! Sophomore at the University at Buffalo pursuing an Exercise Science degree. Undergraduate in the 3+3 Department of Physical Therapy (DPT) program. 6d Very excited to share a recent observational opportunity I had at EXCELSIOR ORTHOPAEDICS! For 40 hours I observed Dr. Kyle Lucas and her work as a physical therapist. I learned a lot about outpatient care and specific treatments for a multitude of injuries. Watching the way Dr. Lucas handled her patients with compassion, precision, and adaptability was incredibly inspiring. I gained valuable insight into the day-to-day responsibilities of an outpatient physical therapy. A special thanks to Dr. Brayan Fernando Lopez, PT, DPT, CSCS and Dr. Dominique Riforgiato, PT, DPT, CSCS, PPSC for their guidance and expertise as well! Running season is HERE! Our STRIDES (Striving to Reduce Injuries During Endurance Sports) providers are passionate about keeping athletes, such as distance runners, safe and in good health to achieve those personal bests. Physical therapist Jillian Taliaferro writes for our blog on how to stay injury-free while running. Read her tips here: May is Mental Health Month, and registration is now open for The Good Climb Endurance Challenge! The Good Climb Endurance Challenge! The Good Climb is a five-hour climbing event at HoliMont Ski Area in Ellicottville. It promotes mental wellness through physical activity. Participants hike up the slopes of Holimont, building emotional strength, connection, and perspective with each climb. Proceeds from this event benefit Horizon Health Services, which provides youth mental health programs in Western New York schools. Hear founder John Baldwin talk about how this wonderful event came to be, with a thoughtful idea and help from participating organizations. Thanks for the shoutout, we are proud to be a main sponsor of this do-good event! This week, we celebrate the heart of healthcare: our nurses! Every nurse at Excelsion Orthopaedics is integral to the patient journey, and in particular, it's a nurse's patience and compassion that so often makes a significant difference in a person's experience with us. Thank you for all you do. Happy National Nurses Week! Over the weekend, we hosted our second Sports Medicine Symposium!
